

Team development Scottish & Newcastle UK

Peplematters is a preferred supplier of Team Development throughout the UK and across all business areas within Scottish & Newcastle UK.

We work in close partnership with the Corporate HR team and Business Partners to design bespoke interventions that meet the specific needs of each team we work with. The process involves in depth diagnosis of where the team is now, where it needs to be an agreement on the best process to get there!

Whether working with senior executives or junior managers, we place specific emphasis on creating a positive business impact by gaining clarity of team purpose, agreement on shared goals and the creation of a collaborative team climate.

We will shortly be working with S&N UK to embed their newly developed 'Best Team Behaviours' throughout the business.

'I am impressed at the pace at which Peplematters have been able to understand the priorities and challenges our organisation faces. This has enhanced their ability to design and deliver quality inputs that support us in our purpose as a department focussed on 'building our people capability to deliver contribution.'

'I would happily recommend the entire team as the back office support is as important as the more direct contact we have with consultants.'

Kirsty Garrick
Development Manager

